

The 2014 PHABC Conference is pleased to present the Pre-Conference workshop:

“Walking the talk: Place, public health, resource use and global change”

December 3, 2014 (8:30-4:30)

Sheraton Airport Hotel, Richmond, BC

Free Full-day Experiential Workshop

Hosted by the Canadian Community of Practice in Ecosystem Approaches to Health, Western Node

Lead Facilitators: Maya Gislason (SFU), Margot Parkes (UNBC), Robert Woollard (UBC).

This workshop will be focused at the interface of public health, natural resource development and global change, exploring how core public health competencies can be enhanced through integrative approaches, such as ecosystem approaches to health, and intersectoral dialogue that spans concerns around public health, equity, and ecologically sustainable development.

The workshop will be experiential and interactive, involving walking, facilitated discussions and site visits to off-site locations.

For more details, please visit <http://ecohealthkta.net/phabc-workshop/>
Please register at copeh-can@unbc.ca. Limited spaces available.